Sir

I beg to submit this application for payment of the endowment bonus due on Mysore State Insurance Policy No 760 issued on the life of the late Mr A. Krishnaswamiengar Deputy Commissioner of Hassan, to his wife and my sister Kamalammal on my executing a bond indemnifying Government with reference to such payment under the following circumstances. Mr Krishnaswamy Iyengar has left two married daughters Padmamal and Ambujammal and a son Sreenivasa Raghavacharry a minor fifteen years and ten months old The son is therefore the heir and his mother, my sister Kamalammal is his legal guardian. She is entitled to administer his estate but we are unable to wait for the legal certificate from the Civil Court as there are pressing debts to pay. I beg that the Government may be graciously pleased to show the Concession I apply for.

Bangalore
27th Sept/96

Your most obedient servant
(Signed) C. Raghavacharlu

Opinion of the President and the Members.

1. What is the amount for which the Policy has been issued? (Please note for information of members)

2. Has the deceased nominated by will or regular document any person to whom the Policy was made payable? If not under sub 3 of the Rules the bonus has to be paid on surrender of Policy to the legal heirs of the deceased. The mother of the minor son of the deceased, as his legal guardian, has to obtain a certificate of Guardianship or herself to receive the bonus. Till such certificate is produced, it is not usual for any Insurance Company to pay the amount of Policy. I don't see how we could make an exception in this case, when the rule is so clear and where we have insisted on the production of similar certificates in other cases If an exception is to be made the sanction of Government must be obtain-ed which in form an incorrect precedent.

The Amount of bonus is Rs 7.685/-. The deceased has not appointed any nominee

The expression used is "legal heirs". I don't think that it necessarily means one who holds a certificate of heirship If there is no doubt as to who the legal heir is, the production of a certificate need not be insisted upon - In one case, we have paid the bonus under Government orders, on the strength of an Indemnity Bond. (Mr Laing Measars' case). A similar course may in my opinion be followed in the present case.

I think the rules permit us to pay the Bonus without insisting upon the certificate of heirship, when we are satisfied as to the payee being the legal heir. In the present case there seems no doubt on this score and the money may be paid. If necessary, as for the security, Mr. Raga-vacharlus' indemnity may be taken

(Signed) A. Rangaswamy Iyengar
7-10-96.

We have been invariably insisting upon the production of a certificate from the Court. If that is to be dispensed with, in the present case, the sanction of the Government, certainly, ought to be obtain-ed as has done in the case of Mr Laing Imeason.

I agree
(Signed) V. P. Madhava Rao

I don't see the necessity of the heirship certificate in plain cases of the son being the claiming heir. But as he is a minor, order of Court or Sanction of Government appears necessary.

15th Jany/97.

I should say that as we are satisfied as to heirship and bona fides of Mr. Rajagopalacharlu, the Bonds may be paid on his executing an indemnity bond to the satisfaction of our, or Government legal advisers, but it is a point on which any native colleagues' opinion is of more value than mine.

(Signed) J. Campbell Walker

I have already rendered my opinion - If the case is to go up to Government, send copies of opinions of all - The Rule is clear - We must have proof of claim - a certificate is I think necessary.
